

BONALDO

Botón

The name - "button" in Spanish – refers to the metal inserts applied to the base, which catch the attention due to the contrast they make with the table's overall image. The material of choice for Botón is fused tempered glass, a choice that accentuates the product's elegance and sophistication and which makes it the perfect piece to place in the centre of a space as the undisputed star of the dining room. The rounded rectangular top of the Botón table has a linear design, while each of the two legs that form the base is made of a pair of glass strips that extend outwards, forming an angle that gives the table stability.
