

BONALDO

Plumage

Designer: Dondoli and Pocci

The compactness and simplicity of the design that characterise the Plumage stool ensure an effect of maximum lightness. Designed by Dondoli and Pocci, the stool draws its inspiration from the shape of the Eiffel Tower. The sleek and slender line of Plumage can accommodate the need for space and functionality in both the home and contract industry.

Available in two different heights, the stool is distinguished by the contrast between the swivel seat, in plastic material, and the legs, made of solid ash-wood. The five colours available for the seat, combined with the three wooden finishes in which it is possible to choose the legs, allow one to create elegant tone-on-tone combinations or bold compositions.
