DESCRIPCIÓN

Belleza pretérita.

El paso del tiempo es un elemento que esculpe la materia imprimiendo su huella sobre los objetos. Note ha creado una familia de mesas cuyas bases parecen inspiradas en figuras arquitectónicas de antiguas civilizaciones erosionadas por el efecto del tiempo.

La escultural base está formada por un bloque rectangular de cuya parte superior se ha sustraído una sección cilíndrica. Un sobre de cristal templado se apoya con delicado equilibrio sobre las finas líneas que han sido dejadas al descubierto por la intersección de ambas figuras geométricas. Una estética honesta que exhibe la fuerza y belleza de formas simples.

Por la singularidad de los materiales empleados, la base no solo es el elemento estructural, sino que también lo es estético. La versión de madera de fresno se puede tinter en todos los colores de nuestra carta. Por su parte, Note recomienda las nuevas incorporaciones Menta, Lavanda y Calabaza, además de los recurrentes Nogal y Cerezo por ser las gamas que mejor combinan con el achampanado color del cristal.

La versión iQ supone una verdadera experimentación en el uso de materiales, pues tradicionalmente se aplica en construcción a pavimentos y paredes. Partiendo de la paleta diseñada por Note para Tarkett, seleccionamos Marino, un profundo azul salpicado de motitas en tonos nude, por evocar la plácida satisfacción de las perpetuidades marinas.

Finalmente, los acabados lacados amplían la gama de colores y aportan un toque extra-mate que realzan el brillo del cristal.

Mientras que las mesitas auxiliares cuentan con tres versiones de tapa (cristal, fresno tintado o dm lacado), las mesas de comedor únicamente están disponibles con tapa de cristal.

DESCRIPTION

The beauty of past vestiges.

The passage of time is an element that leaves a trace of the past as it sculpts matter. Note studio have created a family of tables whose bases remind us of architectural figures of ancient civilizations, eroded over time.

The sculptural base is formed by a rectangular block from which a cylindrical section has been subtracted from upper part. A tempered glass top rests delicately on the fine lines that have been exposed by the intersection of both geometric figures. An honest aesthetic that exhibits strength and beauty in simple ways.

The base is both structural and aesthetic. To combine with the champagne hues of the glass top, Note studio have curated the brand new Menta, Lavanda and Calabaza stains for the ash wood version of the base, and also recommend our classic Nogal and Cerezo colours.

We have also repurposed iQ from Tarkett as an alternative finish for the base: extremely hard waring, it is normally used on floors and walls. The table launches in Marino, a deep mottled blue pattern that has also been designed by Note.

Another option is to choose a lacquer colour from our ample range; an extra-matt finish that contrasts with the shine of the glass top.

While occasional tables are available with three different table tops (glass, ash wood or lacquer), dining tables are only available with a glass top.
